

Having trouble? Using Google Chrome?

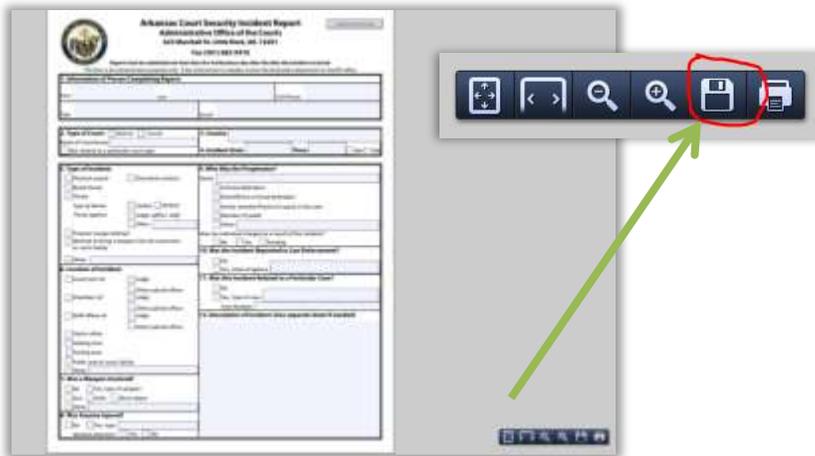

If you are having trouble using the “submit” button within the Arkansas Court Security Incident Report, this guide is designed to help.

If you are using the Google Chrome web browser, clicking the Arkansas Court Security Incident Report link will show the downloaded form in your browser window.

Simply clicking the name of the file in the download area will open the PDF document within your browser window. The form will allow you to type your information into it; however, the “submit” button will not function within your browser. You will need to save the form to your computer and then you can use the send feature or email it to Pete Hollingsworth.

To save the form, move your mouse to the lower-right area of your browser. This will make a small menu bar appear. Select the Save icon (second icon from the right) and save the document to your computer.
