Statement from the office of Chief Justice Howard W. Brill:

I am saddened by the death of Chief Justice Jim Hannah. He devoted his entire professional career to the people of this state. It was most unfortunate that he was unable to finish the term to which he was elected.

I first met Chief Justice Hannah when he came to the law school in Fayetteville and spoke to the incoming students. He sought to instill in them his passion for professionalism and civility. Chief Justice Hannah reminded them that an integral part of the calling of an attorney is to serve others.

Chief Justice Hannah led the Arkansas judiciary with grace and civility. My staff, who served Chief Justice Hannah for many years, and I extend our condolences to his wife Pat, his family, and friends.

Sincerely,
