ARKANSAS DRUG COURTS

ANNUAL REPORT TO THE ARKANSAS GENERAL ASSEMBLY

PROVIDED BY THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE COURTS

KARI E. POWERS

STATE DRUG COURT COORDINATOR

Why Drug Courts?

- A Drug Court is a judicial intervention process in a criminal felony case that integrates alcohol and other drug treatment services with justice system case processing.
- It is a treatment program that is supervised and monitored by the criminal justice system.
- Drug Courts are a proven cost-effective method for diverting offenders from incarceration in prisons.
- They lower the recidivism rate of offenders when compared to either incarceration or probation.
- They allow offenders to remain in their communities, to support their families and to pay taxes.

Drug Courts Nationally

- Drug Courts Save Money- as much as $27 for every $1 invested.¹
- Drug Courts Cut Crime- 75% of Drug Court graduates remain arrest free.²

Research shows Drug Courts are the most successful and cost effective program for dealing with drug-addicted offenders in our criminal justice system. Drug Courts save money when considering direct and measurable offsets such as reduced re-arrests, law enforcement contacts, court hearings, and the use of jail or prison beds. Drug Courts provide additional benefits such as reduced foster care placement and health care utilization.

- In 2009, Drug Courts throughout the U.S. saved taxpayers $8.3 billion in federal and state funding.³ These cost savings are realized within the same budget year.
- A 2011 U.S. Governmental Accountability Office study found that Drug Courts save at least $6,000 per participant.⁴

Drug Courts work better than jail or prison, better than probation alone, and better than treatment alone.

- Drug Courts reduce crime by as much as 58%.⁵

Arkansas Substance Abuse/Addiction and Crime

- In 2013, Arkansas had nearly 14,000 arrests for controlled substances violations.⁶
- According to Uniform Crime Reporting statistics (2012), the following drugs were the top three in drug/narcotic possession arrests:⁷
 - Marijuana
 - Methamphetamine/Amphetamine
 - Depressants/Other Narcotics
- In 2013, the top criminal offense for admissions to the Arkansas Department of Corrections (ADC) was for controlled substances/narcotics violations.⁸
- The rates of unmet drug treatment need for adolescents were among the highest in the nation.⁹
- 1 in 4 adults in Arkansas between the ages of 18-25 report smoking marijuana during the past year.¹⁰
- Rates of methamphetamine use in Arkansas are higher than the national average.¹¹

Current Status of Arkansas Drug Courts and Related Programs

- Specialty dockets or programs employ a problem-solving approach with the judge supervising a treatment plan for a defendant that is designed and implemented by a team of court staff and health professionals. Examples include "drug courts," "mental health courts," "veterans' courts," "DWI courts," "Hope courts," "smarter sentencing courts," and "swift courts." Specialty dockets or programs may be established within a subject-matter division of a circuit court if they are described in the circuit's administrative plan and approved by the Supreme Court.¹³
- As of July 2013, there are 79 specialty programs in the state. These specialty programs include 43 adult drug courts, 13 juvenile drug courts, 9 DWI courts, 5 swift courts, 3 veterans' drug courts, 1 Hope court, 4 domestic violence courts, 2 mental health courts, 1 smarter sentencing court and 1 misdemeanor drug court.¹⁴
 - Hope, smarter sentencing and swift courts incorporate incentives and sanctions, random frequent drug testing, team coordination similar to drug courts but without a focus on the treatment component of supervision.
 - Drug courts, DWI courts, veterans' courts, domestic violence courts and mental health courts all utilize treatment components within the supervision of participants that focus on their special component (i.e. veterans' treatment focuses on needs specific to veterans, domestic violence court treatment focuses on domestic violence issues, etc.)
- The adult drug court programs have over 2,312 active participants.¹⁵
- As of June 30th, 2013, drug court cases accounted for 8.2% of the active probation supervision caseload, up from 7.2% in 2012.¹⁶
- Since 2001, 1267 people have graduated from Arkansas drug courts.¹⁷
- 300 participants graduated the drug courts and 82 completed after-care as of July 2014.¹⁸
- 87% of drug court participant drug tests were negative for controlled/illicit substances compared to 50% of probation/parole offenders.¹⁹

- As of July 2013, there were 37 males and 35 females in the Arkansas Department of Community Correction (ACC) Drug Court Short-Term Residential Treatment Centers.²⁰ The centers average over the last 6 months is 65 residents at any given time.

Return on Investment in Drug Courts

- Incarceration: Potential incarceration cost savings or cost avoidance for adult offenders diverted from state prisons is about approximately 45 million per year. The most current available data indicates that 2012 incarceration costs are $61.83 (ADC) per person per day and $58.21 (ACC) per person per day, and drug court costs are $14.40 per person per day.²¹
- Probation/Parole: Initially, drug courts are more expensive than regular probation. However, due to the higher recidivism rate for probation and parole, savings result in the second year. Drug court graduate recidivism rate is 7.5% compared to probation at 20.8% and parole at 25.2%.²²

Arkansas' Commitment to Drug Courts

- Since 2001, drug courts have continued to grow and develop into solid evidence based programs statewide.
- This development was due in part to legislative adoption of drug courts with the 2007 passage of Act 1022. The General Assembly enacted this legislation to help ensure the coordination and allocation of treatment court funding to establish the Division of Drug Court Programs within the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC), and to provide program criteria and support.²³
- In 2011, Act 570 was adopted to further establish the use of evidence based practices and validated risk/assessment tools and to focus on higher risk offenders.²⁴
- In 2013, the Arkansas Department of Community Correction and the Division of Drug Court Programs partnered to meet the data collection and program evaluation mandates within the Arkansas Drug Court Act statutes. ACC conducted its most comprehensive performance evaluation study on drug courts to date and results are expected to be published this year. Following the completion and publication of the ACC Drug Court Evaluation Report, the next step will be to proceed with an independent evaluation of the individual drug court programs. This process will ensure that Arkansas continues to follow best practice standards in accordance with the National Association of Drug Court Professionals.²⁵

- Budget cuts reduced the treatment funding for drug court participants to $500,000 for 2013, compared to $1.5 million and $3 million in previous years. This amount is disbursed among all drug courts statewide. The legislature also declined to provide any funding for new drug court programs. It approved five more locations for new drug court programs in 2011, but these programs have yet to be funded.
- The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC), Division of Drug Court Programs has been successful in applying for and receiving federal grants for specialty court programs. In 2011, the Department of Justice awarded the AOC grant funding to establish a pilot Hope court. The Arkansas pilot court was only one of five projects awarded nationwide.
- In 2013, the Department of Justice awarded the AOC a drug court grant for the Drug Court Capacity Building Project. The award will fund the implementation of an Osceola Drug Court to serve both Blytheville and Osceola communities in Mississippi County. This award also supports professional development for drug court staff to attend state and national level training events. The final component of the award provides funding for program support projects to the local drug courts in Arkansas. The three year award totals nearly 3 million dollars for Arkansas drug court programs.
- The AOC Division of Drug Courts conducts annual training for drug court personnel statewide that brings in national level speakers and focuses on topics such as evidence based practices and current research in the field. The AOC acts as an active partner with the Arkansas Drug Court Professionals Association serving as liaison on committees and partnering on training events.
