

RECOGNIZED RECIPROCAL JURISDICTIONS

The following jurisdictions have been reviewed by the Arkansas State Board of Law Examiners and have been determined to be "reciprocal" under the provisions of the Arkansas admission on motion rule.

Alaska	Nebraska
Colorado	New Hampshire
District of Columbia	New York
Georgia	North Carolina
Idaho	Oklahoma
Illinois	Pennsylvania
Iowa	Tennessee
Kansas	Texas
Kentucky	Utah
Minnesota	Washington
Mississippi	Wisconsin
Missouri

JURISDICTIONS DETERMINED TO NOT BE RECIPROCAL

The following jurisdictions have been reviewed by the Arkansas State Board of Law Examiners. It has been determined their admission on motion provisions are sufficiently dissimilar from the Arkansas admission on motion rule to decline recognition of them as "reciprocal" jurisdictions.

Alabama	Ohio
Indiana	Rhode Island
Michigan	Virginia

STATES FOR WHICH RECIPROCAL STATUS HAS NOT BEEN DETERMINED

Arizona	Vermont
Connecticut	South Dakota
Massachusetts	Vermont
North Dakota	West Virginia
Oregon	Wyoming

JURISDICTIONS WHICH DO NOT ALLOW ADMISSION ON MOTION

According to the most recent volume of the Comprehensive Guide to Bar Admission Requirements, a publication of the National Conference of Bar Examiners, the following jurisdictions do not allow admission on motion. Section 1.(d) of the Arkansas admission on motion rule requires that the state in which the applicant attorney has or had his or her "principal place of business for the practice of law" or "was or is domiciled and admitted" must allow admission on motion to Arkansas attorneys. Hence, if your "principal place of business" or "domicile" is in one of the jurisdictions mentioned below, you will not be allowed admission on motion in this jurisdiction. Since rules can change from time to time, you are encouraged to contact any of the jurisdictions listed below to determine if they have recently changed their admission on motion provision.

California	Nevada
Delaware	New Jersey
Florida	New Mexico
Hawaii	Rhode Island
Louisiana	South Carolina
Maine	Guam
Maryland	N. Mariana Islands
Montana	Palau
	Puerto Rico
	Virgin Islands
